

Drivers ignore rules

Ode to end of plastic

I am visiting Broome, house and dog-sitting.
As I walk the dog twice every day, I am getting to see a reasonable number of vehicles on the road.

I am surprised by the number of drivers who either disregard or don't know that a turning vehicle must give way to pedestrians.
This applies at all turns, including roundabouts. I would not jump in front of a vehicle to test the rule but it is obviously there to protect the pedestrians from injury or death.

Bryan Elwood
Pinjarra

*A plastic-bag-free Broome is certainly the way to go.
Let's all get on board and be part of that show.
It's been working in Exmouth and other places, where people have a positive attitude and happy faces.
There are thousands of bags used each and every day.
And, sadly, many of these end up in beautiful Roebuck Bay.
Bunnings demonstrates it can work and there's no cross to bear.
So other big retailers need to also follow — if they dare.*
Joe Hogan
Broome

The Napier Terrace/Carnarvon Street roundabout in Chinatown. Picture: Glenn Cordingley

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
Send your letters to the editor to PO Box 303, Broome, WA, 6725 or email news@broomead.com.au. Please include a contact number, not for publication. Letters to the editor will not be published without a name and suburb for print and may be edited for clarity, length or legal reasons. Preference is given to letters of fewer than 200 words.

KIMBERLEY MOMENT

